

Supporting a Sustainable Tourism Future

for Vanua Levu & Taveuni

Tourism that lifts everyone, benefits all

Better opportunities for people.

Protected natural assets.

Empowered and thriving communities.

Shared value for people and nature.

Improved Infrastructure & Services

Upgrading airports and roads, improving waste management, and introducing renewable energy solutions to support a safer, cleaner, and more connected Northern region.

Stronger Businesses

Supporting local businesses, particularly women entrepreneurs and community-based tourism operators, through skills training and business support, and improved market readiness.

Nature Conservation & Climate Action

Protecting biodiversity in our reefs and forests, preserving cultural heritage, and enhancing community as well as destination safety through climate-resilient infrastructure and disaster preparedness.

Empowered Communities

Empowering communities to contribute to tourism planning, support private sector development, safeguard natural and cultural assets, and engage in meaningful decision-making.

The 10-year Fiji Tourism Development Program in Vanua Levu (Na Vualiku Project) is poised to deliver economic prosperity and sustainable growth, with a strong focus on protecting nature and heritage.
